

Hi Jim,

We spoke earlier about EPA's desire to coordinate with TCEQ on the Corpus Christi Drinking Water Incident. I just wanted to let you know that Parker Wilson, in-house counsel for Valero, has offered to meet with the EPA at our Dallas office on March 7 or 8, depending on availability. Given EPA's commitment to coordinate with the State of Texas concerning this incident, EPA management would like to know if TCEQ would be interested in attending and participating in such a meeting. I do not yet know the purpose or agenda for the meeting, but the brief phone discussions I've had with Mr. Wilson indicate it may be more of a presentation by Valero on what happened that triggered the incident and response. Mr. Wilson said he, his supervisor and a technical person from Valero would be attending. I've also left a voice-mail message with Jane Atwood at the Texas Attorney General's Office about the proposed meeting. Is this something you or anyone else at TCEQ would like to participate in? Please let me know.

Thanks and best regards,

Edwin Quinones
